1. SONG

From whence cometh song? —
From the tear, far away,
From the hound giving tongue,
From the quarry's weak cry.

From whence, love?
From the dirt in the street,
From the bolt stuck in its groove,
From the cur at my feet.

Whence, death?
From dire hell's mouth,
From the ghost without breath,
The wind shifting south.

3. NANTUCKET

Flowers through the window lavender and yellow changed by white curtains —

Smell of cleanliness —

Sunshine of late afternoon —
On the glass tray

a glass pitcher, the tumbler turned down, by which a key is lying — And the immaculate white bed.

2. THE DANCE

In Breughel's great picture, The Kermess,
the dancers go round, they go round and around, the squeal and the blare and the tweedle of bagpipes, a bugle and fiddles tipping their bellies (round as the thick-sided glasses whose wash they impound) their hips and their bellies off balance to turn them. Kicking and rolling about the Fair Grounds, swinging their butts, those shanks must be sound to bear up under such rollicking measures, prance as they dance
in Breughel's great picture, The Kermess.

4. SONG

Go, lovely Rose —
Tell her that wastes her time and me,
That now she knows,
When I resemble her to thee,
How sweet and fair she seems to be.

Tell her that's young,
And shuns to have her graces spied,
That hadst though sprung
In deserts where no men abide,
Thou must have uncommended died.

Small is the worth
Of beauty from the light retired:
Bid her come forth,
Suffer herself to be desired,
And not blush so to be admired.

Then die — that she
The common fate of all things rare
May read in thee;
How small a part of time they share
That are so wondrous sweet and fair.
— Edmund Waller (1606-1687)

5. UP-HILL

Does the road wind up-hill all the way?
Yes, to the very end.
Will the day's journey take the whole long day?
From morn to night, my friend.

But is there for the night a resting place?
A roof for when the slow dark hours begin.
May not the darkness hide it from my face?
You cannot miss that inn.

Shall I meet other wayfarers at night?
Those who have gone before.
Then must I knock, or call when just in sight?
They will not keep you standing at that door.

Shall I find comfort, travel-sore and weak?
Of labour you shall find the sum.
Will there be beds for me and all who seek?
Yea, beds for all who come.

— Christina Rossetti (1830-1894)

6. MOTHER, I CANNOT MIND MY WHEEL

Mother, I cannot mind my wheel;
My fingers ache, my lips are dry:
O, if you feel the pain I feel!
But O, who ever felt as I?

No longer could I doubt him true —
All other men may use deceit;
He always said my eyes were blue,
And often swore my lips were sweet.
— Walter Savage Landor (1775-1864)

7. FEAR OF DEATH

What is it now with me
And is it as I have become?
Is there no state free from the boundary lines
Of before and after? The window is open today

And the air pours in with piano notes
In its skirts, as though to say, "Look, John, I've brought these and these" — that is,
A few Beethovens, some Brahmses,

A few choice Poulenc notes . . . Yes,
It is being free again, the air, it has to keep coming back Because that's all it's good for.
I want to stay with it out of fear

That keeps me from walking up certain steps,
Knocking at certain doors, fear of growing old
Alone, and of finding no one at the evening end
Of the path except another myself

Nodding a curt greeting: "Well, you've been awhile
But now we're back together, which is what counts."
Air in my path, you could shorten this,
But the breeze had dropped, and silence is the last word.

8. THOUGHTS OF A YOUNG GIRL

"It is such a beautiful day I had to write you a letter
From the tower, and to show I'm not mad:
I only slipped on the cake of soap of the air
And drowned in the bathtub of the world.
You were too good to cry much over me.
And now I let you go." Signed, The Dwarf.

I passed by in the late afternoon
And the smile still played about her lips
As it has for centuries. She always knows
How to be utterly delightful. Oh my daughter,
My sweetheart, daughter of my late employer, princess,
May you not be long on the way!

9. FERRY ME ACROSS THE WATER

"Ferry me across the water,
Do, boatman, do."
"If you've a penny in your purse
I'll ferry you."

"I have a penny in my purse,
And my eyes are blue;
So ferry me across the water,
Do, boatman, do!"

"Step into my ferry-boat,
Be they black or blue,
And for the penny in your purse
I'll ferry you."

— Christina Rossetti

10. THE DANCER

Behold the brand of beauty tossed!
See how the motion does dilate the flame!
Delighted love his spoils does boast,
And triumph in this game.
Fire, to no place confined,
Is both our wonder and our fear;
Moving the mind,
As lightning hurled through the air.

High heaven the glory does increase
Of all her shining lamps, this artful way;
The sun, in figures such as these,
Joys with the moon to play;
To the sweet strains they advance,
Which do result from their own spheres,
As this nymph's dance
Moves with the numbers which she hears.

— Edmund Waller

The cycle was commissioned by The Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge Foundation. It was composed between November, 1978 and May, 1979 on the island of Nantucket, hence the title. An apt subtitle might be Popular Songs, insofar as "Popular" means "entertaining" as opposed to "classically" indirect. Indeed, these songs — merry or complex or strange though their texts may seem — aim away from the head and toward the diaphragm. They are, as collegians say, emotional rather than intellectual, and need not be understood to be enjoyed.

The first performance was by soprano Phyllis Bryn-Julson with the composer at the piano, at the Library of Congress, October 30, 1979. A recording of this performance has been issued by New World Records (NW 310).

The piano introduction is in 11/8 time, key of D major. It features a complex, rhythmic melody in the right hand with many beamed sixteenth and thirty-second notes, and a more active bass line. The texture is dense and energetic. A dynamic marking of fff (fortississimo) is present. An 8va (octave) marking is shown above the right hand in the later measures.

The first system of the vocal and piano accompaniment. The vocal line begins with a mp (mezzo-piano) dynamic. The piano accompaniment starts with a p (piano) dynamic. The lyrics are: "Be - hold the brand of beau - ty tossed!"

The second system of the vocal and piano accompaniment. The vocal line continues with a mf (mezzo-forte) dynamic. The piano accompaniment features a mf dynamic in the right hand and a p (piano) dynamic in the left hand, with trills (tr.) indicated. The lyrics are: "See how the mo - tion does di - late the flame!"
